

PRESS RELEASE

For immediate release

21 July 2017

The countdown is on to Waipa and Raglan's premier event, the 2017 Waipa Networks Business Awards at Mystery Creek Events Centre on 18 August.

Award finalists will be announced soon.

This year, the Awards organisers are thrilled to welcome Nick Rado as the event's Master of Ceremonies. Nick is a comedian, head writer for TV3's 7 Days show, and four-time winner of the NZ Comedy Guild Best MC award.

Nick will guide over 400 guests through the evening with humour and fun as the winners are announced in 15 categories, representing the very best of business and community in Waipa and Raglan.

The Awards are an opportunity to recognise, reward and celebrate business excellence and the gala evening is always a great night out and the perfect way for businesses to say thank you to loyal & valued clients or a hard-working team.

Tickets are on sale now at www.waipabusinessawards.co.nz/shop for this incredible event which includes a delicious three-course meal and live entertainment from Antenna.

Air New Zealand, a sponsor of the Awards, will provide two $500 travel vouchers as prizes in the earlybird ticket draw. Two lucky people who purchase their tickets before Friday 4 August will go in the draw to win $500 travel each.
